Innersprings rethought

A.FullSize Tech

Innersprings rethought

Classically zoned innersprings offer anatomical adaptation from head to toe. Now, the A.FullSize Technology takes a new direction. Our special production method combines different strengths of wire in horizontal orientation. This creates very new, tailored opportunities for configuration with regard to ...

... Stability

Increase flexibility – without losing stability of the seat edge – by releasing the flat steel frame

... Comfort

Make full use of the benefits of innersprings for the whole mattress surface in place of foam

... Individuality

Tailor the innerspring unit more than ever before to the needs of your target group

A.FullSize Tech Frame

Total innerspring comfort from edge to edge

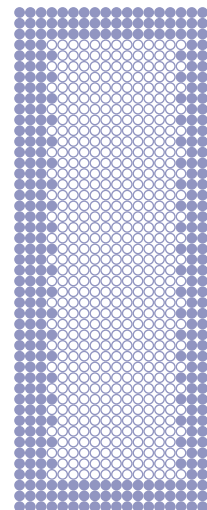

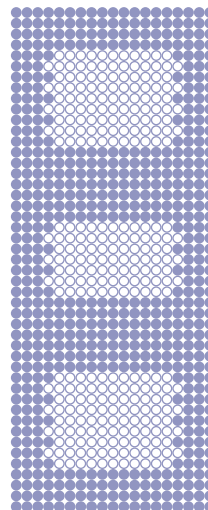

Offers a central and particularly balanced feeling on the mattress due to its firm frame

Guarantees durable comfort over the long term by giving support right to the edge

Available in combination with a classic vertical zoning on request

A.FullSize Tech Duo

Two different needs of support – one innerspring solution

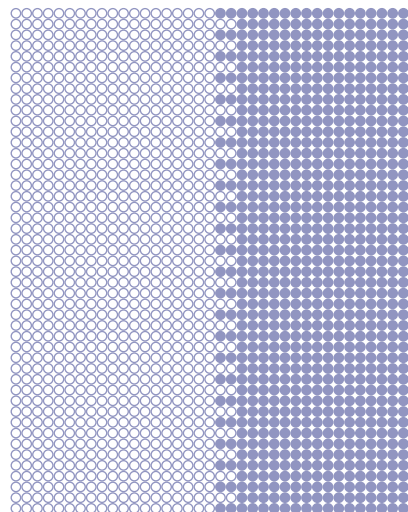

Matches two customised halves of an innerspring unit within one product to create, for example, one part with soft support and the other one with firm support

Allows for combining individual comfort with unhindered physical closeness and a consistent overall look

Available in combination with the variant “Frame” on request
